Special Telegram

Liverpool, Sept. 21st.
11 a.m.

Roumelia thrown off Turkish rule; joined Bulgaria. Will Turkey reconquer? Will Russia prevent? Will movement spread? are questions eagerly discussed.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAMS.

HAVAS AGENCY

Vienna, 19th (Evening).

According to a telegram from Monastir, a revolution has broken out in Roumelia. The Government were defeated and deposed, a committee being named to govern pro tem. The belief is current here that the ringleaders of the revolutionary movement have worked in concert with the Bulgarian Government, and that the action of the latter will, no doubt, declare itself shortly.

Palermo, 20th.

Cholera is spreading; yesterday 166 fatal cases were reported.

Sophia, 20th.

At the same time that the news was spread of the downfall of the Roumelian Government, a decree was issued here by Prince Alexander convening the Chambers and mobilizing the army. The Prince of Bulgaria has left for Philippopoli at the head of a detachment of troops.

Monastir, 20th.

The temporary Government has proclaimed the union with Bulgaria in opposition to Turkish sovereignty. The greatest enthusiasm prevails amongst the inhabitants.

Paris, 31st.

The greatest excitement has been caused in Europe by the telegrams from Roumelia. It appears that Turkey will not relinquish her rights to that territory, and a war that may assume serious proportions is probable.

Palermo, 21st.

One hundred and eighty-five fatal cases of cholera have occurred within the last 24 hours.

Sophia, 21st.

Prince Alexander has issued a manifest proclaiming the union of Bulgaria with Roumelia, and calling upon the support of all to this end.

Great activity is displayed in concentrating troops on the Turkish frontier to repel any attack that may be made.

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

Bordeaux, 19th.—The River Plate wool auctions took place on the 17th and 18th inst. Over 4,200 bales on sale, 3,000 were sold. Prices show a falling tendency and have fallen 10 per cent as compared with the previous auctions.

At the close of the auction over 1,000 bales of River Plate wool remained unsold.

San Antonio, 21st—The Italians had great festivities yesterday on the occasion of the 20th Sept. A banquet was given and at night there was a brilliant display of fireworks. Band of music marched through the streets.

Rosario, 21st.—The Italian festivities were not very animated, although great preparations had been made for the occasion. The only notable feature of the whole fete was the brass band, which paraded the streets.

The inauguration of the Chamber of Commerce was most brilliant. Speeches were made by the Consul and President of the Chamber.

The ball last night at Campidoglio was largely attended and did not break up before five o'clock this morning.

At the political meeting held yesterday at Cañada de Gomez, the greatest order prevailed.

Many rumors are afloat with reference to the Jefe Politico Caffareta making a trip to B. Aires.

It is raining at the present moment but the weather promises to clear up.

Rioja, 21st.—The candidature of Vicente Bustos to the Governorship of the Province is the great topic here in political circles. It does not appear to find much favor; on the contrary, already a strong opposition is being felt.

Montevideo 21st—Rumors are being spread that several high dignitaries are to be shortly dismissed. It appears that some frauds have been discovered, and two of these dignitaries are compromised.

A decree will be issued shortly naming Don Joaquin Mascaro Port-Captain.

Doctor C. A. Baian has refused to resume his post of Jefe Politico in this city, in consequence of his dispute with General Santos having been made public.

The Italians were enthusiastic yesterday and their festivities for the occasion were a most decided success. There were banquets, public demonstrations etc.

At night the Cibils Theatre was crowded. The Swiss residents had got up some festivities also and assembled at a banquet in the Hotel Continental. Brilliant toasts were delivered and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

The Solis Theatre Committee have brought an action against the Municipality owing to the latter having taken several yards of the Plazoleta of the theatre to enlarge the Calle Buenos Ayres.

Minister Carve has held several interviews with the President of the Republic, the results of which are not known as the official papers maintain the most perfect silence in this respect.

In political circles news is scarce and everything seems to be dull.

Over one hundred students will graduate shortly; a jollification is announced for the occasion.

The University Committee will make some sweeping reforms: for example the University cap is to be abolished and other changes, perhaps of a similar nature, are on the 'tapis'.

DR. IRIGOYEN'S RECEPTION.

Whilst the Italian Clubs marched through our streets on Sunday with banners flying, commemorating the 15th anniversary of the entry of Italian forces into Rome, a few hundred gentlemen, clad in black, with blue and white ribbons in the top button holes of their frock coats, descended in procession to the Paseo Julio. The festive crowd of the "oi polloi," who sauntered about the streets in holiday attire, wondered at the procession of top hats and black coats and eagerly joined to swell the numbers of friends and admirers collected to welcome Dr. Irigoyen. As the throng poured into the Paseo Julio, a distinguished Irishman, recently arrived, struck with the gravity and black attire of the crowd, very ingenuously asked "Who is dead?" The remark was called for, as there was a funereal appearance about affairs, until the popular candidate and hero of the reception arrived in a special train at 3 p.m. sharp.

About five thousand people thronged the Central Station and the street. All the balconies of the houses were crowded, and a fair sprinkling of ladies was noticeable in the station and adjacent gardens. The scene was imposing, as the human wave extended from the Government House to the corner of the Calle Piedad—an immense crowd of respectably dressed people, the majority of whom, no doubt, had come with the express purpose of welcoming Dr. Irigoyen. But, even granting that half the number were composed of indifferent sight-seers, the reception must be, nevertheless, considered as one of the grandest and most respectable ever witnessed in this city. It reminded one forcibly of the return of General Mitre from his tour to the West Coast.

At 3 p.m. the shrill whistle of the Campana locomotive announced the approach of the special train, and the crush was great as Dr. Irigoyen jumped from the waggon into the arms of his friends, amidst loud cheers and in a breeze raised by the thousands of hats that were waved to and fro. The march from the station to the Plaza Mayo and to the corner of Florida and Rivadavia was a "via crucis" for the candidate and the friends who surrounded him, as the crowd increased as they advanced. The cheering, we must acknowledge, was very indifferent, and the clapping of hands was a dead failure. Everybody looked as a serious as a judge, and the fun and animal spirits of the crowd appeared to be pitted against an overpowering sense of dignity and respectability, buttoned up in frock-coats and paraded in a gravity of carriage and mien that frightened the very street boys and threw a wet blanket on every attempt to put life into the "manifestation." The crowd was slow and melancholy dull. As the new Bolsa was passed, some boys picked up bricks with the sinister purpose of pitching them at the few members who stood in the central balcony, but they thought better of it as the mounted police-men came up.

The procession lost considerable numbers as it emerged from the Plaza into the Calle Rivadavia, but the march through Calle Florida was attended with some difficulty, as many people had already taken up positions in the vicinity of the National Theatre to hear the speeches. Basketfuls of flowers were showered on Dr Irigoyen from several balconies between Cangallo and Rivadavia, and such was the profusion of flowers and leaves that the street was a verdant carpet and the air redolent with perfume.

The throng was so great at the National Theatre that the building could not be entered, but Dr Irigoyen and his immediate friends managed to get into the house opposite and took up their quarters on the roof. Cheering became general, and hurrahs for Dr Irigoyen, Buenos Ayres and the Argentine Republic filled the air. Some parties had the bad taste to shout "down with the Beduins," but they were immediately put down. Dr Gallo, who stood to the left of Dr Irigoyen, doffed his hat, and addressed the popular candidate in the name of the country. He begged to express to Dr Irigoyen the great pleasure he felt in welcoming him back in the name of his legion of friends; his was the honorable mission of informing him of the significance of the enthusiastic cheers of the crowd—cheers that were addressed to the sterling friend, to the victorious candidate and the enlightened patriot; he augured victory to the candidate who, with the lubricating friction of popularity, returned with the echo of the unanimous cheers of the provinces of the Interior which hailed in him the banner of peace, freedom, constitutional order, respect of law, honest government, and free suffrage. "Public opinion," he said, "is the only sovereign majesty of the present; you only weave its laurels by diving into popular waters, dropping into the crowd, noting its aspirations and necessities, and distinguishing in each palpitation an echo of duties to be performed or of wrongs to be redressed." Dr. Gallo continued in this strain for a quarter of an hour and wound up with some energy, calling on all to vote and to enforce the irresistible opinion of the majority.

Dr. Irigoyen returned thanks in the mellifluous and Hymettean accents that are so familiar to all who have heard him. He described his trip to the Interior and made the important statement that, with the exception of Catamarca, he met with a free expression of public opinion in all the provinces. He had gone to the country, without any official support or any elements to bribe public opinion; he had taken with him nothing but his career as a statesman and his promises to carve out a sound and honest Government, and he brought back with him the conviction that the majority of the country supported him and his programme. The Presidential election, he felt sure, would take place in peace, and the promise of the President of the Republic was a guarantee that the elections will be free, that no violence will be employed. He thanked all for their kind reception and concluded his speech with felicitous terms that called forth a roar of applause from the Calle Piedad to the Calle Cangallo.

Dr. Irigoyen then joined the crowd, and the procession marched to his house under a shower of flowers. The Doctor's residence was filled with guests until late at night, and the President of the Republic remained several hours conversing with the happy candidate who certainly did not anticipate such a wave of popularity, such a gigantic reception nor such honors.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGINEERS.

From the debate in Congress last week on the expenses of this department, it is quite evident that most of the deputies considered the department too expensive, that there is altogether too much engineering going on in the Republic, and that science in that line is raising its heads beyond the limits of our budget capacities. A very animated debate took place on the proposal to abolish the post of lawyer to the Engineers. Mr. Deputy Calvo considered that it would be a saving in the wrong direction, as, to his certain knowledge during a lengthened residence of 16 years in England, the 'explotacion' which matters connected with the Engineers' Department had cost the country 14 to 15 millions; which proves clearly that if the Engineers had their own lawyer the country would have been saved a very large amount. The contracts are all of special character and need the advice of a special lawyer, and every private company having contracts with us has its special lawyer, who arrange matters with such a nicety that for the slightest error we have to pay damages of 100,000 m/n, and this would not happen if the Engineers had their own lawyer. It was argued by the opposition that the Government had the Procurador General (attorney general) to consult, but this was rebutted by the fact, that it was only when questions had advanced to their last limit they were laid before the Procurador General. After some further discussion the matter was put to the vote, and carried as recommended by the Committee, namely that the Engineers have their own lawyer, for which 207 m/n per month was voted. The inciso stands so:—

Then followed a debate on the large staff of Engineers, but the attempt of the opposition to reduce the staff was thrown out and the inciso stands so:—

The Holbein's Mails.

Manchester, August 22.

A telegram from Meshed says a collision nearly occurred on the 13th instant between the Russian and Afghan outposts at Kara Tepe. A few Russian troopers approached the former place, and the Afghans took to their arms. The Russian officer ordered his men to unsling their carbines, and was accidentally shot by one of them. The Afghans detained the Russians, pending orders from Herat, and finally sent them back to Chamain Baid. The Russian commander has promised that his men will not again advance. Intelligence comes from St. Petersburg that the Czar's Government intends sending General Boiew next month to the frontiers between Russia and Persia and Russia and Afghanistan in order to study the conditions of those territories with a view to the introduction of a new system of Customs.

A Vienna journal remarks that, if Sir H. D. Wolff has been instructed to sound Turkey as to the eventuality of a British protectorate in Egypt his mission in present circumstances must certainly fail, seeing that Turkey is compelled to act in union with Germany and Austria. A Turkish intervention in the Soudan, the journal adds, is another step. To this, it is thought, Turkey will probably be brought without much trouble.

A Philadelphia correspondent says Montreal has been in a partial panic about the small-pox. High mass has been celebrated in the Church of St. Roch, imploring aid to remove the scourge. Sir Francis Hincks was privately buried on Wednesday, only his son attending the funeral. He caught the small-pox in a tramcar, and was ill only 12 hours.

The reply of the German Government to the Spanish diplomatic protest against the occupation of the Caroline Islands was despatched from Berlin yesterday.

It is reported that the Sultan of Zanzibar is seriously indisposed.

News has reached New York from Lima that the insurgent leader Caceres arrived at Canta on the 16th inst., the day after the defeat at that place of the Government troops. It is added that he ordered the execution of several of the prisoners.

Mr. George Russell, M P, presided yesterday at St. James's Hall, London, over a conference convened for the purpose of considering the desirability and means of forming a national vigilance association for the enforcement and improvement of the laws for the repression of criminal vice and public immorality. There were five or six hundred persons present, a large proportion whom were ladies. Mr. Stansfeld moved the first resolution recommending the formation of a National Vigilance Association, and insisted, in the interests of social purity, on the enforcement of the provisions of the criminal Law amendment Act, he having no faith in any police regulations. Next session he would move Parliament for the absolute repeal of the Contagious Diseases Acts. Mr. Montagu Cookson seconded the resolution. A long discussion took place as to the desirability of forming a new association, whilst the Central Vigilance Society was in existence, or to affiliate the two associations, the general opinion being that a new association should be formed. Resolutions relating to the establishment in all the towns and villages of the country, with power to affiliate with existing kindred committees, were carried. Rescue and preventive work was the subject of discussion later on. The Bishop of Bedford moved a resolution approving of the issue of an appeal to the people of England, and this was carried. Other resolutions were adopted appealing to employers, dealing with overcrowding, and suggesting the establishing of night refuges for girls.

Mr. Parnell, speaking on Thursday at Arklow, said that without a free elected National Assembly, with power to control all the affairs of Ireland, and with power to protect her struggling industries, it would be impossible for them to revive their native industries. If the labourers, artisans, and mechanics of Ireland would support their representatives he believed that in a few months, certainly not longer than a few years, they would bring back to them, to their soil, and to the people of Ireland, the right to govern Ireland at home, and to banish English misrule for ever.

Messrs Hibbert and Stanley, the members for Oldham, addressed a meeting of their constituents at Greenacres last night. Mr. Hibbart spoke in favor of a simplification of registration and extension of local government. Mr. Stanley defined Liberalism, and argued that the House of Lords could not be reformed but must be abolished.

The Salford brewster sessions were opened yesterday; the Mayor (Mr Alderman C. Makinson) in the chair. The Chief Constable's report showed that during the year 12 licensed victuallers had been convicted—an increase of seven compared with last year—and there had been 19 convictions against 18 beersellers (seven of whom had their licenses endorsed), being a decrease of 14. The convictions for drunkenness, 1003, were 122 in excess of last year's figures. The Mayor, in commenting on the report, said it appeared there was one licensed house in the borough for every 168 persons, or, deducting women and children one house for every 40 or 50 men. That, in his opinion, was more than the requirements of the public demanded, and the magistrates were determined that at any rate none but respectable and law-abiding people should hold those licenses, and for any serious infraction of the law the licenses would be forfeited. Five persons applied for licenses to sell all intoxicating liquors. Four of the applications were refused. One was granted. The adjourned sessions will be held on Friday next.

The ordinary half-yearly meeting of the Midland Railway Company was held yesterday at Derby; Mr M W Thompson presiding. The continued decrease of the company's business and the shareholders' dividends were commented upon by the Chairman, who said that railway companies must consider what economy they could effect. In any projected outlays of capital the directors of the Midland Company would proceed with caution. A dividend of £2 7s. 6d. on the ordinary stock was declared.

It is said that the whole of the chainmakers in East Worcestershire and Staffordshire are preparing to embark on a general strike for an advance of wages ranging from 10 to 20 per cent. The strike will affect between 3,000 and 4,000 men.

LONDON LETTER.

BREAKING-UP DAY.

(From our own Correspondent.)

August 10th.

The Times contains five columns of a funeral oration on the Parliament of 1880, which is practically defunct from to-day. It might hereafter be known as the "Midlothian Parliament," and has betrayed many signs of its northern origin. It dealt largely in abstract propositions whilst aiming at practical results. It contained many clans, each hating the other more than the common enemy. This internal warfare was covered, to the last, by the Chief, with a Christian tartan of his own composing, which had the miraculous property of changing its spots and its tints as it flaunted alternately in the sun of Royalty and of Dukedoms, or was dangled in the face of advancing Socialism. Finally, all sides got to know it, and got sick of it; and in the double attempt to hide Lord Spencer, and appease the Irish, the Chief committed "temporary suicide." I see that, even as far off as Buenos Ayres, his enthusiastic admirers in your own paper ascribe his failure to his mere inferiority to the cunning of foreign Ministers and diplomatists. That is a grave mistake; Mr. Gladstone's foreign policy was the most favorable of his many sides. Only, even in that, when he was right, he yielded to the vulgar jingoism and Gordonism of the Pall-Mall and of Lord Hartington. Peace to the "old man's" soul in Norway, where I see he has safely arrived. But the "Sunbeam" must have had a good dusting in the late south-west gales.

Lord Randolph, with all his boyishness, was cute enough, when in Dorsetshire the other day, to put his finger on the errors of Mr. Gladstone's domestic policy, in which, as in his policy abroad, he was always too long in making up his mind. He postponed great questions until the ardour of reformers cooled and his adversaries gained courage. His power, sapped at both ends, sank. It was precisely the same in his previous administration, and it will be the same again if he returns to power, and his health and strength are preserved for another five years.

Mr. Stephen Williamson and Mr. Montgomerie, chairman of the General Shipowners' Society, are carrying on a correspondence in the Times with Mr. Thomas Gray, the Board of Trade statistician on shipping questions. Your commercial and arithmetical readers will find the letters from those gentlemen exceedingly interesting, as the old question, as to the use and abuse of statistics, is admirably exemplified in the modes adopted by one or other of the contending parties, of arriving at a true average, in this case, of the number of seamen lost annually in proportion to those annually employed. Mr. Williamson draws attention to the fact, that the crew of an Atlantic liner, making 12 voyages a-year, with 200 men; the crew appears in Mr. Gray's figures as 200, instead of 2,400, and, of course, the proportionate loss of life is much increased. Again, Mr. Scrutton contends that Mr. Gray takes the whole number of seamen as a profession, and as they appear in a census, whereas to find the average loss of life the men on shore, and out of employment, must not be counted. Mr. Chamberlain admits that on this basis of calculation the figure to which he adheres, as representing loss of life, would be enormously changed. Mr. Montgomerie reminds us that the loss of life in the shipping trade was, in Mr. Chamberlain's words, "higher than the loss in any other trade whatever." Mr. Montgomerie instances the comparison with the loss of life in mines as unfair, because the miner is exposed to danger for only one-half of the day, whilst the sailor is exposed for the whole 24 hours.

These are very nice questions, and, I must say, that if Mr. Gray, in his reply to Mr. Williamson, may be right as to the point in regard to the American liners and their crews taken as unity or plus 12, he displays a bad sign when he loses his temper in this wise—"Now, what Mr. Williamson suggests by his allusion to the Atlantic liner, if he suggests anything, appears to be either, &c. &c. . . . 'His' (Mr. Williamson's) method is to regard steam tonnage as doing three times the work of "sailing tonnage;" and in reference to the hands employed he submits that plan as "a reasonable method of estimating the numbers of men required to work our tonnage." Does he mean by this "that to do the work of a steam-vessel of a 1,000 tons three times as many men are required as would be required for a sailing vessel of the like tonnage, or does he mean that because by taking the average all round, he finds that a steam-vessel makes twice as many voyages as a sailing vessel, therefore the crews of steamers should all round be counted as three crews instead of one crew, and if he does not mean either of these, will he kindly tell us what he does mean?" &c. &c.

If the subject is to be argued in this hoighty-toighty, pert and "expert" Board-of-Tradish fashion, the question will soon be reduced to one of "Three black crows" (crews.) I have no doubt in my own mind that Mr. Chamberlain is, in the main, right on this subject, and I have more faith in his instincts than in Mr. Gray's figures. I find Mr. Chamberlain continually supported in his opinion by subsequent disclosures. For example, his great panacea for Ireland is local Government.

In to-day's Times there appears the report of the Royal Commission on the "Housing of the Working Classes in Ireland," and, it says distinctly, that the only remedy is the extension and reform of the local Government, exactly what Mr. Gladstone's Whig friends, putting aside irreconcileables on the Tory side, will not have, as it cuts at the root of landlord ascendancy.

Mr. Broadhurst has replied to Lord Iddesleigh, and most effectually on the subject of his lordship's pretended explaration in the House of Peers in regard to the representation of labour in the Royal Commission on the Depression of Trade. This is a question just like that of statistics. It is not what we or the figures say, but what we know of circumstances around and behind what is said or suggested. Lord Iddesleigh would have no one believe that he and his friends were anxious that labour should be represented and he produces sufficient evidence of fact to crown the lie. There is no getting over the following passages from Broadhurst's letter and the cautionness Lord Salisbury has hitherto displayed in not appearing too conservative until he gets the power as well as the name of Prime Minster, has in this instance been departed from and the error will cost him dear. Mr Broadhurst says, after exposing the delays and hesitations in the question, "on the same evening, the 11th, I received a letter from Lord Iddesleigh to join him in the inquiry. This I unhesitatingly and I feel justly, refused to do, as is appeared to me to be an after thought and that labour was thus being invited more for the convenience of the Government than from any sense of right." . . . . . My interest in this matter is neither "Tory nor Radical, free trade nor fair trade, but as secretary of the Trades Union Congress" . . . . . I know that the Government are now making frantic efforts in many directions to induce workmen to join the Commission" etc etc. You can imagine the rest, and perhaps you hear Lord Randolph in his own vernacular saying "that blooming old———. I sent Northcote to the Peers to get rid of him. I wish I had sent him further, and just at the short moments too when we were at the point of being prorogued. We shall get whacked after all, by Jingo."

I open this letter again; and shall debit you for my virtuous care of your interests with the following amounts:

To cab waiting	6d
To extra stamps	4d
To copy of Town Talk	1d
To being sold by the placard and buying a later edition of same	1d
Total	£0 6s 8d

The "sell" consisted in seeing on the bills "names of the Minotaurs of London: Probable prosecutions," and finding in the papers nothing of the kind, but only a promise, that perhaps the names might be given next week or the week after.

A real honest, moral and cultivated "Town Talk" that would oppose and expose the obscurantism of respectability, and its newspaper representatives, would be a godsend. The only quotation from "Town Talk" I send is re Chatwynd versus Lonsdale, in case of pummelling carefully kept out of the 'daihes.'

THE CHAS RAMS.

B. Ayres, 21st Sept. 1885

To the Editor of the STANDARD.

Dear Sir,

In your issue of the 24th July last, talking of American Merino Rams, you state as follows:—

"A practical man and good judge of sheep assures us that nothing like them has ever been imported here. One ram 40 lb. fleece. They beat all the rams in this country, and that is saying much, but even Mr Chas's rams, we hear, cannot compare with them."

Notwithstanding the palpable error in this judgment, we said nothing at the time, because an assertion of this nature, in which you mention names, should only be reputed by facts that will at once convince anybody.

The 30 rams from our farm "El Rosario" are at Messrs Bullrich & Co.'s, in Calle de Aisina No. 78, which enables us to show the error of the assertion. They prove by the perfect equality of them all—by their type and size, and by the length, curl, elasticity and closeness of the wool, which is double as fine as that of the American Merinos—that they are far superior to these in every respect.

We shall esteem it as a favour if you will kindly use your influence to induce the practical man and good judge of sheep, to whom you alluded, to examine our animals and ascertain for himself the incorrectness of his statement, that there are no rams in this country, not even from Messrs. Chas's farm, that can compare with the American Merinos—informing him at the same time that it will afford us much pleasure to let him see the fleeces of the last shearing of the two rams that won prizes at the Continental Exhibition, the weights of which are, respectively, 40½ and 41½ pounds.

We are, dear Sir,
Yours very truly,
Francisco Chas é Hijos.

THE SCAB LAW

Ensenada, September 18th.

Dear Sir,

Kindly let it appear in your STANDARD that Mr. Bulrich sold for Don Archibald Bell 20 yearling rams Lincoln on the 15th, averaging over 58 m/n. I called at your office and I left you a report of Cooper's Sheep Dip, and now there is much talk of trying to pass a law to stamp out scab. I thoroughly believe if Mr. Lowe and others interested in such a law passing, would give Messrs Cooper's Dip a fare and honest trial, and use it according to directions, scab would soon disappear, as I believe it to be a thoroughly honest Dip, and very different from many others which to use would be worse than throwing one's cash into the fire. I often wonder why the Government have never given us shepherds the results of the deputation which visited other countries to report on sheep. As we receive your ably conducted paper every day I will be pleased to hear of your referring to the pamhplet I left on the 15th. We have used Cooper's Dip here for over two years and it has given the best results. I often think if the Government or the Rural Society were to give prizes for the best managed flocks or flock in a neighbourhood of 20 leagues, would cause scab and bad management to disappear. I may say I am not like the gent who wrote lately, his letter appeared in the STANDARD, saying he had never seen a good flock in this country. I expect I have not been half the years here he may have been, yet I do think I have seen as good a flock in this country as ever I saw in the old country, and one twice the size.

Yours Respectfully,
J. R.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The revolt of Roumelia, announced in our Special telegram, is the great news of the day. As the message itself expresses, the affair has given rise to the most serious political questions for European statesmen. Many, no doubt, will see in this unlooked-for event the hand of Bismarck, but time alone will prove whether they are right or not.

We beg to acknowledge receipt of "Catita" an habanera, the latest composition from the pen of Mr. F. A. Hargraves. Habaneras are Mr. H's strong point, and in this one he has eclipsed all former efforts. The piece is dedicated to Mrs. C. S de Bowers and can be had at Mr. W Mackern's Libreria, 139 Florida. We strongly recommend it to the public.

Dont forget Mr. Spilsbury's concert at Flores to-night. It will be quite a fashionable affair, and a delightful way of spending the second evening of Spring. It will be over early enough to enable visitors from town to get home to bed by the penultimate tram. Everybody who is anybody is going to be there, there is no excuse for anyone stopping away, as the arrangements are complete in every respect. Special trams will run in all directions on the conclusion of the concert. We sincerely wish Mr Spilsbury the success he deserves, for he has worked hard for the object, we hope he may attain, namely, a church worthy of the English community in Flores. There are still a few reserved seats to be had which may be obtained either at Messrs Mackern's library, Calle Florida or at the theatre at Flores.

Dr. Pellegrini has at last arrived and is in quarantine at Flores Island until 25th inst.; he may be expected here on the 26th. Letters received from Paris state that the opinion in banking circles in London and Paris is that Dr. Pellegrini has made certain financial combinations which give the Government much more favorable terms, and that the loan business is considered there as concluded.

We call attention to Messrs Chas and Sons' letter in another column rebutting the assertion that the American Merino rams are better than his. We do remember some years ago, at a Rural Exhibition, an estanciero, who had been all through the best cabañas in Germany stating, that the Chas rams are equal to the very best bred in Germany.

To-night the grand English Concert at Flores Theatre takes place. It promises to be a rare treat, and we believe every seat in the theatre will be filled. The programme is most attractive and will be found in another column; special trams await the conclusion of the Concert.

We hear that Professor Godio's lecture on Egypt the other night before the Geographical Society was a rare treat. We're awfully sorry we didn't go. We could sit for a week listening to all about the land of the Copts.

We see that "Our Dan" is going to try his hand with the Florida Gardens, that "refugium peccatorum" for managers who are troubled in spirit. We wish him the most Barnum-like success. By the way! Is Jumbo's death confirmed?

The market gardeners at Montevideo are on strike, and there is no cabbage to be had for all the corned beef devoured there every day. They eat an awful lot of corned beef in the Mount, which accounts for a certain saltiness of aspect and conversation in our legion of friends down there.

Young duck and new peas have made their appearance with the first day of Spring. The next things will be 'galeras blancas.'

The manifestation to Dr. Irigoyen on Sunday was a surprise to the city, and must have made the other candidates examine their consciences. There were 5,000 people waiting for the doctor at the Central Station, amongst them a few ladies. The doctor's march from the station to the National Theatre was simply a triumphal one. From the balconies of several houses in Florida fair hands showered flowers on the "lady's man" "par excellence," of the day. The crowd was so tremendous that Dr. Irigoyen could not get into the Theatre, so he scrambled up to the roof of Fabre's shop, where Dr. Gallo made a speech and "embraced him with effusion;" after which he made a nice speech himself, and then went home. All day long he was enveloped in friends in his private house, from President Roca and Ministers downwards.

The Carolinas question will have a lot of cracked Spaniards to answer for before it is over. A highly respected Spanish grocer in San Nicolas is now reported off his head. It is but fair that some Germans should now go mad on the subject, not to be outdone in patriotism by the Dons.

Sunday was a day after frivolous Buenos Ayres's own heart. The weather was glorious, and the Italians, the Spaniards, and Dr. Irigoyen's thousands of supporters kept up the drumming and fifing and flogging and feeding, fun, fuss and flammery from morning till night.

We were wrong the other day about Dr. Wilde's marriage. It wont come off till the middle of next month.

The Correo Español and Courrier de la Plata published raving articles against England on Saturday. We can forgive the Spaniards, as they are excited about the Carolines; but the idiotic drivel about England that comes in an unceasing stream almost daily from the French source in question is perhaps better treated with silent contempt.

Congress pronounced an emphatic No! on Saturday to the proposal to whitewash Mr. Lopez Jordan for his political pranks some years ago.

Mr. Carve, they say, looks rather cut up after his arduous mission to London; but he has brought back the Uruguayan Bank ready made in his pocket.

La Tetrazini made a great hit in Aida the other night. She is far away a better artest than Mrs. Borghi Mamo. A dance by a lot of little niggers in the second act brought down the house. Nothing touches the hord in this country like a "bailecito," even by niggers.

President Roca did not go the Industrial Club dinner on Saturday, but the Lord Mayor did. It was a very grand affair and some good speeches were made, but no allusion was made to the unfortunate shareholders of the Exhibition of 1882. Banquo's ghost was w

The absence of any news from the Carolinas on Saturday and Sunday left the Dons in an unpleasant state of suspense. We can, see however, that they are cooling down; but the cession of the islands to Germany will raise the devil again.

The Entre Riano Railway seems to be going ahead very fast in the hands of Mr. Lucas Gonzalez, who is, now certainly, the railway king of this part of the world. There are four leagues of earthworks already made.

Ostend is the great bathing rendezvous this summer for South Americans in Europe. They can no longer afford the more fashionable places, owing to forced currency, and the innumerable other ills that South American flesh is heir to.

Eighteen more of the costly and beautiful buildings that have been run up for public schools are now ready for inauguration, and seven more will be ready before Christmas. Public school education in this country is more costly than in Europe.

The Rossi and Doosid Cheeky company for the Politeama will be here this week. The famous Italian actress is rather pretty with a highly intellectual face, but like most Italian actresses is as thin as a whipping post.

There is a controversy getting up in our colleagues' columns as to whether embalming or cremation should be adopted as a substitute for burial in the ground. The Prensa makes out a strong case for embalming. In the case of mothers-in-law, stepfathers and mothers, miserly old bachelor uncles, and poor relations of all kinds and degrees, we should say cremation. for various reasons, would suit best.

Colonel Fothergingham has almost completely recovered from his wound in the duel yesterday; but he will be marked for life. The other man is all right.

The Buenos Ayres Legislature has now a Bill before it to substitute female for male teachers in the graduated schools of the province. They say the plan works well in the United States; but schoolmarms there are made of far sterner and stronger-armed stuff than the charming and impressionable 'señoritas' one sees hanging about the public schools here.

The parish Health Committees are seeking permission to inspect private houses as well as "conventillos," lodging houses etc. We hope they'll get it, as many private dwellings can give the lodging houses a ton and beat them in a canter as regards dirt and unhealthy arrangements.

Ferrari has his Colon company already arranged for next year. Mesdames Kopka Gargano and Stahl, and Messrs Tamburlini, Stagno, Mierwinsky (Morewhiskey. What a name!) and some others more or less (far more less than more) known to fame.

Don Philip Parcel declares that the Mataderos under his charge are not in a filthy and anti-hygienic state. The papers say they are.

The Rural Society has sent round a circular to all the estancieros, asking them for samples of the different grasses on their camps, in order to have them analyzed. The grass must be cut close off at the root, then wrapped in an old copy of the STANDARD (no other paper has the same effect on the grass) then left for three days to dry in the sun, and then sent to the Secretary of the Truly Rural.

The hordes of "Para hoy!" boys, men, women and girls in the streets shout louder than ever since they know that their occupation's doomed. There is a vindictive vehemence in the way they now yell out the eternal cry, as much as to say, "bad luck to you all in general and to Congress in particular!"

In the Mount there are a lot of people anxious to give their bodies to be burned when they die, and a Cremation Society is being formed. We confess to a prejudice in favour of old Mother Earth when we "shuffle off."

Sir Walter Scott used to say that he derived much comfort from the fact that he had never written a line which on his death-bed he would wish to obliterate; and it is said that Edmund About's rule in correcting the proofs of his writtings was, "If I come to a sentence, or even a word, which I should not like my daughters to read, I at once strike."

We saw another too utterly queer name in the papers the other day—Mr Spresafico—; but whether it was in connection with a spree, a scrimmage, or a fashionable 'swarry' we really quite forget. There is endless laughter to be got out of all the queer names that turn up in this cosmopolitan city. The Cronica occasionally extracts some laughing gas from them.

We're quite in love with the weather, and so are lots of people. It's not healthy weather, however, and doctors and apothecaries are making lots of hay. Medicine is dearer in Buenos Aires than any other place under under the sun; even in Yap.

There was a din in editorial circles in Rosario on Friday owing to our talented colleague Dr. Pellicone having slapped Mr. Din's face in the public streets. What for we are quite unable to say. Of course there is talk of a duel.

An exchange says that sharks' teeth have been dug from an artesian well 1200 feet deep near Jacksonville, Fla. They must bury keepers of winter hotels very deep in Florida.—Through Mail.

Commander Erasmus Obligado, one of the most "apreciable" officers in the army, has, we request to say, gone out of his mind. He commanded the Rio Negro Flotilla, and had recently returned frem Europe. Madness is sorely on the increase.

A "changador" named Ferrari was suddenly attacked with homicidal madness on Friday in Calle Cuyo. He rushed into a 'fonda' and mortally stabbed four men before the police could secure him. Native made gin we should say.

Important Notice.

I hereby advise the public that I have established a Gymnastic Institute at Calle Florida 406 where I also apply the MASSAGE SYSTEM as studied and practiced at Dr. KELLGREN'S well known institute in London.

This system has given the most surprising results in curing chest and lung complaints, and all maladies caused by the kidneys and joints, and in any way connected with the nervous system. Thus the celebrated SYSTEM of MASSAGE is recommended as a certain cure for rheumatism, asthma, undeveloped muscles, paralysis, disorders in the digestion and in the circulation of the blood, etc., etc.

I have also a special class for the development of the body and muscles.

The following is the time-table I have arranged for the application of the Massage System:

For Gentlemen 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.
For Ladies 12½ to 2 p.m.
Consultation hours—11.50 a.m. to 12.50.
Patients can also make arrangements for the application of the Massage System at their own residences.

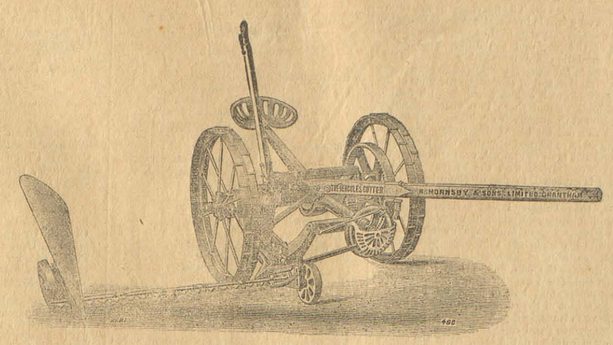
HERCULES MOWER AND FERN CUTTER



his machine has been specially designed for the Colonies and other new countries, for cutting strong thistles, fer and light scrub on rough land, and has been most successful in Autralasia and South America. It has very high wheels and is of great strength combined with lightness in draught.

The cutting apparatus consists of 2 sets of knives, one set fixed to the Bar in place of the Fingers, and the other driven by the Crank plate and connecting Rod in the usual way.

The unanimous verdict of all who have worked this machine is that it is the "Most useful and economical implement on the estancia."

National Bank Shares	147

The week opens with a dull and heavy gold market, accompanied by all the symptoms of a threatening fall. The heaviness of the situation is very visible in operations for this month, but there is buoyancy in the speculation for the end of October, and the differences paid in backwardation are remarkably small. It is strange to note that, in spite of the heaviness of the market and of the weak symptoms in the premium, much of last week's bearish feeling is subsiding, and there is a visible flanking movement in speculative opinion. It may be that the old tactics of discounting the effect of news have warned operators that a counter-movement is on the 'tapis', or, perhaps, by the rule of contraries, that the arrival of Pellegrini is expected to put up the price of gold.

The first news on 'Change this morning was, that Pellegrini had arrived safe and sound at Montevideo and had landed on Flores Island to pass four days' quarantine. A crowd of friends left this port yesterday to welcome him at Montevideo and to get all the news of the loan out of him. Telegrams from the Mount were anxiously looked forward to this morning, but, to judge by the stationary aspect of the market, nothing of importance has transpired yet.

Many are puzzled to understand how anybody can dream of the loan, since the term of this session of Congress will not be extended. The Commissioner will arrive here on the 25th, and it is highly improbable that Congress will be able to gallop through a loan bill in five sittings. If the bill is not immediately produced on his arrival, the probabilities are that Congress will break up and the matter will necessarily stand for another year. It is, however, well-known that the Cabinet is anxious to conclude the loan, and to effect this the Session will, no doubt, be extended a week or a fortnight, or the time necessary to conclude the business. The fact is ascertained that the Government must apply to Congress for some amendments in the original loan bills, before re-opening negotiations with the bankers.

The more one studies this loan business, the more one becomes convinced that the final settlement of this knotty and complicated negotiation is yet far off. The good faith of this market has been so often surprised by the announcement that the business was done or about done, that brokers, dealers and outsiders have become callous. The transcendental importance attached by speculative and other interests to the arrival of Dr. Pellegrini is becoming daily more reduced as that event approaches, and the majority of operators round the ring are beginning to consider the matter in the light of a speculative hoax.

The movements of the Board of the Provincial Bank are more keenly watched than those of the National Commission. The rumor that the Exchange Committee of the Bank are in favor of a rise in the drawing rates of exchange is growing into firm belief, and this fact affects the speculation more than anything else. The gold market is in a falling mood and both State Banks could now seize a favorable opportunity of favoring the fall and bringing down the premium by influencing the exchange market.

Forty thousand gold dollars changed hands for cash at the ring at 37.60 and 37.70 o/o premium. Over one hundred thousand were sold for Saturday at 37.60. Operations for the end of the month embraced $380,000: the market opened at 37.90, fell gradually to 37½, and closed at 37.60. Two hundred thousand were sold for the end of October at 37 firm. Prices for Saturday and the end of the month closed weak.

Cedulas ruled dull and weak compared with Saturday's prices. A few thousand Series A changed hands at 100¼ and E at 81. Operations in the new 7 o/o Series G embraced 23,500 cash at 87 to 87½ and 30,000 for the end of the month at 87.

Twenty-five shares of the Italian Bank of the River Plate were sold cash at 115 o/o premium to-day. This high premium is explained by the fact that the stock is gold and the splendid gold dividends of the Bank. Two hundred Shares of the National Bank were sold for the 30th at 147; two hundred were sold on call up to the end of October at 149. Nothing was done in the Scrip.

The exchange market ruled dull this morning, and little activity is expected in affairs before the end of the week. The rate in London is quoted at 46½. The whole market has its eyes fixed on the State Bank. The money market is pretty easy, but gold is tight. None of the banks would discount in gold to-day.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the ring during official hours:—

Messrs Oostendorp & Co., in their important produce circular, give the following, under date Antwerp, August 18th, 1885:—

With the exception of salted hides, which continue in fair request, quietness has been the prevailing feature for most articles.

Hides—
Imports, 4,700 dry R. Plate
102,600 salted do
20,300 salted Rio Grande
200 dry horse hides
Stock, 23,400 dry R. Plate hides
148,600 salted do
1,900 dry Rio Grande
24,600 salted do
3,400 miscellaneous.
200 dry horse hides.

In presence of the good choice on hand the demand has been active for salted ox and cows at prices showing no noteworthy change.

Dry hides are in little enquiry and the small business reported was effected at rather irregular rates.

No transactions in horse hides took place.

Tallow—
12 pipes and 90 half-pipes mutton on spot sold at fs.67.

In Liverpool the market is flat and 29s is the present quotation for Digester beef. To arrive 750 pipes beef ⅔ Digester and ⅓ saladero expected per Umkonanzi sold at 27s c.i.f.

Wool—
Imports, 1,900 bales River Plate.
Sales by private contract—
900 bales R. Plate
100 bales miscellaneous.
Stock, 22,900 bales B Aires
15,800 bales Montevideo
50 bales Entre Rios
11,300 bales miscellaneous.

The auctions which began on 28th July closed on 8th inst. with following result:—

Offered.	Sold.
Bales.	Bales.
11,448 Buenos Aires, ...	6,009
9,749 Montevideo, ...	4,692
82 Entre Rios, ...	39
315 Miscellaneous, ...	64
21,594	10,804

On the whole the sales came off very unsatisfactorily; prices during second week showed no recovery on those current at the beginning thus confirming following decline on April rates.

About 10c for Montevideo lambs and fine fleece wool.
10c for medium and secondary Montevideo wool.
10c for B. Ayres wools in general.

The stocks at end of auctions, amounted to 39,400 bales R. Plate besides 11,400 bales miscellaneous which is important for this time of the year and leaves little hope for an early improvement.

The quotations for Buenos Ayres invoices, averaging a 1a, are:—
F.1.55-1.70 for special fine stapled fabric wools, 38-42 o/o yield.
F.1.35-1.45 for fine wools 35-36 o/o
F.1.20-1.30 for good wools 33-34 o/o
F.1.00-1.05 for medium wools 30-31 o/o
F.0.90-0.95 for good medium lambs 31-32 o/o
Fair Montevideo shipments, averaging a 2a, 40 o/o yield, are worth f.1.35

Scoured wool stands in at about fs.3.25-50 for secondary, fs.3.50-75 for medium, fs.3.75-4 for good to fine, fs.4.00-4.25 for superior fine stapled Buenos Ayres 1a, and fs.3.25-50 for fair Montevideo 1a (washing and all expenses excluded).

Sheepskins—
Stock, 386 bales.
Sales, 21 bales at weak rates.
Buenos Aires invoices of mat. skins, ⅔ to full wool, averaging a 1a, are worth nominally f.1.15-25 for good quality, and f.0.55-1.00 for average.

Wheat—
Rules quiet in presence of the favorable gathering of most of the Continental crops and the late decline in the U. States.
Quotations are:—fs.16 to 17 for secondary and fs.17½ to 18½ for good to fine R. Plate per 100 kilos.

Linseed—
Is in good demand at somewhat firmer rates.

R. Plate on spot has been paid between fs.25½-26¼ per 100 kilos according to condition, whereas the quotation to arrive is about fs.26½ c.i.f. (with the 4 o/o clause).

Maize—
Is very dull.

Sound yellow R. Plate has been sold at auction at fs.11½-12, and white at fs.11½-11¾ per 100 kilos.
